Fumiko is an exceptionally talented violin student currently in Year 11 at Wanganui Collegiate School. Most recently, and not for the first time, she was part of the winning group for the Chamber Music Competition, the regional round having been held at Collegiate. Fumiko was part of the group of soloists who performed at the Sarjeant Gallery on Waitangi Day 2013 and has also performed in Wanganui as part of the Wanganui Music Society series.

Sam Baker has been a Music Tutor at Wanganui Collegiate School since October 2012, before which he graduated from Oxford University as Organ Scholar of Pembroke College. He performs regularly in Wanganui both at school and as part of the Sarjeant's Musicians for the Sarjeant series. He has given organ recitals in Dunedin and Wellington, and will be performing in both Melbourne and Sydney Cathedrals in October, as well as Auckland before he returns to the UK to continue academic studies. He is a passionate composer as well as organist, pianist, accompanist and tutor.
