Weddings, Fashion & Personal Portrait Sessions

Areas or Artworks Where Photography Is Not Allowed

Some works — especially taonga Māori and cultural items — may have custom restrictions that prohibit photography.

Please observe signage and check with a Gallery Host if unsure.

Respecting Others

- Do not photograph or film other visitors, especially children, without their express permission.
- Always be mindful not to block accessways or disrupt others' experience.

Student, Educational or Research Projects

We're happy to support students and educators. Please get in touch in advance if you'd like to film or photograph as part of an educational project.

Right to Restrict or Remove

The Sarjeant Gallery reserves the right to stop photography or filming at any time if it:

- Risks artwork or exhibition safety
- Disrupts operations or visitors
- Breaches copyright or cultural protocol
- Is conducted without the appropriate permission

Drone Use

Drone use is prohibited inside the gallery. External drone photography requires CAA compliance and written approval.

Contact us to discuss your request.
